DAMAGE SUIT WON IN SAN FRANCISCO

Atty. J. W. Preston returned last Wednesday from San Francisco where he had been for the past week prosecuting a damage suit in the Superior court there. The case was that of Matchette vs. the California Fruit Canners' Association and the result was a big victory for Preston & Preston, the jury bringing in a verdict for $5000. Eight of the jurymen were for $10,000 at first but finally set the amount at $5000.

The case was brought by the widow for the death of her husband who was crushed by a freight car which was backing in to a siding. The man was caught between the side of the car and the company's building The city attorney whom the plaintiff hired at first threw up the case saying there was no chance to win, but those are the sort of cases Preston eats for breakfast and as usual he made good.

Considerable credit is also due Attorny M. A. Thomas, a Ukiah boy who is practising law in the city, who was associated with Preston & Preston on the case. He is an attorney of no mean ability and contributed considerable toward the winning of the case.

STORES DECORATE FOR THE HOLLIDAYS

A number of Ukiah firms have made special decorations for the holiday season and with a wealth of greens and holly berries to be had merely for the gathering it is strange that more have not availed themselves of the opportunity to brighten up their stores.

The C. Hofman Co. is probably the most laviah in its decorations. Big arches have been erected throughout the store and are covered with holly berries and greenery. In addition wreaths are hung everywhere, the whole giving a beautiful effect.

The windows of the White House The Toggery and the Ukiah jewelry store have also been dressed for the season with sprays of holly etc The windows of the Ukiah Jewelry store are particularly pleasing and the number of passers by who stop to look is evidence that it is worth while.

E. R. Gibson has a unique window display also.

These merhants deserve great credit for their diplay of the Christmas spirit.

UKIAH PEOPLE AT KLAMATH FALLS

Irving Bailey, while in a conversation with a Dispatch reporter this week, gave some interesting information about the great northwest. He was located at Klamath Falls, Oregon for about two years. When he went, there the town had about two thousand people. It now has seven thousand inhabitants. H. P. Thomas is there and is doing well. He has the paper route and handles the Oregon and California papers. Archie Tyndall is also located there. Archie has married and is the city editor of the Evening Herald and is doing well. A number of Mendocino county people have been in that vicinity recently and Irving says they all have made good.

Nick Thomas Moves In

Nick Thomas, a well known barber of San Francisco, moved to Ukiah this week and has fitted up the Cecille shop. He has put in a fine outfit and his shop is as clean and pretty as a new pin. He is one of the best tonsorial artists in the country and prides himself on good work. He says he is here to stay and that he is depending on the excellence of his work to keep him here.

That he will make a go of it is as foregone conclusion, for he is a fine workman and a pleasant fellow.

A Correction

In reporting the outome of the case of Haun vs. T. B. Burke et al last week the Dispatch stated that the case was won by Mr. Haun and that Preston and Preston were his attorneys. As it now develops, the case was won by Preston and Preston, but they were attorneys for the defendant Burke.

SLEUTHS CLEVER WORK LANDS MAN IN JAIL

Jack Kelly of Willits Apprehended in Santa Rosa as a Result of Sharp Work by Mendocino Officers

A thief who took several suits of clothes and several bolts of cloth from Jim Nolsi y's tailoring shop in Willits a couple of months ago, was apprehended by Deputy Sheriff W. H. Ries Friday morning. Kelly had been in the employ of the Northwestern Pacific railroad in its round house at Willits for several months. He has been under suspicion since the tailor shop was entered, but the officers were unable to locate the stolen goods until Thursday, when the goods, packed in a box marked "glass", were sent from Willits to Santa Rosa, under the name of Jones. Deputy Sheriff Whitcomb notified Byrnes tnat the goods had been shipped and Byrnes and Ries went down to Santa Rosa. Byrnes was called to the coast and Ries and Sheriff Smith of Sonoma tcok turns watching the freight office for the thief to turn up and get the goods. Friday morning he was put under arrest when he appeared and asked for the goods under the name of Jones. At the Sonoma county jail he gave the name of Kelly and admitted the crime. Friday afternoon he was taken to Willits for trial.

It was a sharp piece of work on the part of the officers and all concerned deserve a great deal of credit for the capture.

TRAINS TO SEWARD BY MARCH 1ST NEXT

Steel Now Laid From Eureka to Brock Creek, Seven Miles North of Ft. Seward

Weather conditions proving favorable, the extension of the Northwestern Pacific railway from Shively to Fort Seward will reach the Seward terminal of the present contract not later than March 1 and possibly several weeks before that time.

A. C. McLean of the Klipple & Mc Lean company, which company has the sub-contract under the Utah Construction company for building the railway extension from McCann's Mills to Fort Seward, has put the big seven ton steam shovel to work on the last stretch of the company's contract. This stretch is at Camp 6, a short distance north of Fort Seward, where a cut and fill remains to be made. When this cut and fill is made rail will be laid on the grade and a railway from Eureka to Fort Seward will be an accomplished fact.

At the present time 75 pound steel rails are laid to Brock creek which is about 7 miles north of Fort Seward. The grade is completed some four miles beyond that point with the exception of two trestles and as soon as the trestles are completed the rails will be laid.

Work on these trestles has been delayed by a minor cave-in of the Filkin's tunnel. The tunnel is now open and work trains are being operated through with supplies.

A soon as the trestles are completed and the rails laid to Fort Seward the railway company will commence hauling in construction supplies, such as cement and powder, and McLean will then be enabled to commence work on the new contract between Fort Seward and Island Mountain. According to the contract, the railway company is to lay the supplies down at Fort Seward and until the railway is completed to that point this is impossible and consequently McLean can do but little construction work on the contract from Fort Seward south.

At Fort Seward work is practically at a standstill the big hotel is under cover and very nearly completed but owing to the failure of the contractors to get in plaster and other material before the rains set in, the work on the building has been retarded considerably. The town has been platted and F. M. Helmke, the general merchant, and Fred Smythe, of the Overland Auto stage company, have alre ady selected the site for their new buildings which will be erected as soon as the railway is able to haul in the necessary materials.—Humboldt Times.

HOODOO GETS BYRNES

Sheriff Starts for Coast Last Friday by Auto From Santa Rosa. Winds up Horseback at Hopland.

Sheriff R. R. Byrnes of Mendocino county had a number of varied experiences early Friday morning, which will undoubtedy make him superstitious of Friday the 13th in the future, if he has not been superstitious of that date in the past. He came to Santa Rosa Thursday afternoon in connection with the Mendocino county case in which a tailor shop had been robbed, the capture of the thief in the case being told in another column of this paper.

About 2 o'clock Friday morning he was called up from Ukiah a nd told of the work of the highwaymen at Mendocino City. He hired an auto and started post haste for the scene of the crime, but his journey by auto was cut short near the Sonoma county line, when the auto ran into bank and broke an axle.

After the auto accident he rented a horse and saddle and proceeded on his journey. Shortly before noon Friday he had not got further than Hopland and figured that it would be this evening before he would reach Mendocino City, whereas when he left here he anticapted the could reach that place some time Friday morning.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Lawrence Waugh departed the latter part of last week for San Francisco and Oakland where he will remain for awhile.

CURE FOR A COLD.

Heroic Remedy to Which the Red Man Pinned His Faith.

The Indian was not especially hardy in battle, except when he fought the pneumococcus, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The very fury of his attack so far discomfited that terrible germ as to leave the red man in possession of the field very soon after the battle opened. Major Cicero Newell, who was for many years an Indian agent among the Brule Sioux, tells in his reminiscences how the Indians conducted themselves in action. He says:

"If an Indian caught a bad cold his friends went with him to the bank of a stream, where they put up a little tepee large enough for one person to crawl into. Then they built a big fire and put stones on the fire. When these were hot the friends put them in the tepee with the sick man and poured water on them. In this way they soon filled the tepee with steam. They continued to do this until the sick man was warm and perspired freely. Then they took him to the creek and threw him into the cold water. After that they chased him with a whip up and down the bank of the stream until he perspired freely again. Then they wrapped him in a buffalo robe and allowed him to sleep. This always broke up the worst cold."

The trouble with us is our disposition to permit the pneumococcus to put us on the defensive. The Indian rushed him at the tap of the bell.

MADE RESIGNING EASY.

Uncle Ike's Real Reason For Giving Up Preaching.

When Senator Mark Smith of Arizona was a boy he lived on a big plantation in Kentucky. It was in slave days, and one of his father's slaves was Uncle Ike, who was the preacher for the place.

Smith's father had built a small church on a corner of the plantation, and Uncle Ike held forth there every Sunday. This was pleasing to Ike because it not only gave him a chance to exhort the negroes, but it absolved him from any of the Sunday chores.

One Sunday Mark went out by the barn and found Uncle Ike sitting disconsolately under a tree.

"Look here, Ike," said Mark, "why ain't you down there preaching?"

"Well, Mars Mark," Ike replied, "I ain't goin' to preach to dem niggahs no more. They's always fightin' 'mongst theyselves, an' I'm sick an' tired an' done quit preachin'."

"Stop your lying, Ike," said Mark. "You wouldn't quit such a soft snap as that. What's the matter?"

"Well, Mars Mark," Ike replied, "ef you mus' know, dem trifilin' niggahs done sent me my resignation."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Death of Mrs. Shoemaker

Mrs. Elizabeth Shoemaker, wife of John W. Shoemaker, passed away at their home sevrael miles west of Ukiah last Sunday morning. The funeral was held from the Christian church in Ukiah last Tuesday afternoon, the sermon being preached by Rev. Clark.

Mrs. Shoemaker was a native daughter, being born in Tulare, Cal. March 21, 1855. She was a woman of noble christian character and was much beloved by her family and friends. She and her husband had resided on their mountain ranch for many years and a large circle of acquaintances extend sympathy to the family.

There remains to morn her loss two children and the husband, besides several other relatives.

Walter Hughes came down from his home in Potter valley last Wednesday on business, returning yesterday.

GRAND - LAND - OPENING

Subdivision of the "Hildreth Ranch" Yokayo Rancho. The Grandest and Greatest Opportunity Ever Offered the Farmer, Dairyman, Horticulturist or Poultryman

YOKAYO RANCHO, practically adjoins the beautiful city of Ukiah and is on the main county road, adjoining the million and a half dollar State lands and inprovements. About ONE THOUSAND acres of this ranch has been subdivided into tracts of TEN ACRES, more or less, and will be thrown on the market for purchase

Sunday, Jan. 12, 1913

The wonderful value of this property is well known in this section. For the cultivation of HOPS, ALFALFA, FRUIT and VEGETABLES (all of which are now growing on the ranch) it is doubtful if it can be duplicated in Northern California. The bottom land, of which there is nearly THREE HUNDRED acres, is rich sedimentary loam. While the foot-hill land is a dark gray alluvial soil especially desired for fruit. In the hands of the skilled and scientific agriculturist its latent possibilities await an ENORMOUS DEVELOPMENT.

YOKAYO RANCHO lies in the ARTESIAN DISTRICT and flowing wells are within a few rods on the adjoining property and we are now putting down wells on our tract. WATER, SOIL and SUNSHINE make production an absolute certainty.

This is a WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY and the terms upon which this land will be sold enables the man of moderate means to become an OWNER as well as a MAN OF FORTUNE.

We invite inspection. Come and look it over. A small deposit will hold your selection until date of sale when it will be credited you on amount of purchase.

LAND is getting scarcer every day and constantly advancing in price.

Lands Second Thief

Sheriff Byrnes yesterday landed Alva Smith, one of the thieves wanted for the robbery of the Willits tailor shop. Kelly was arrested in Santa Rosa as told elsewhere in the Dispatch and Smith was located by Byrnes in Suisun. One other thief, Wilson, is still at large.

It now develops that Smith and Wilson took the goods originally and hid them. Then Wilson became afraid that Smith would get away with the them and got Kelly to hide them in another place. Smith left the country shortly afterwards and Wilson was pinched for vagrancy. Meanwhile the hay in the barn where they were hid was being fed out and Kelly got afraid they would be found boxed them up and shipped them to Santa Rosa under the name of Jones, so he was pinched when he went to claim them.

GRAND - LAND - OPENING

Subdivision of the "Hildreth Ranch" Yokayo Rancho. The Grandest and Greatest Opportunity Ever Offered the Farmer, Dairyman, Horticulturist or Poultryman

YOKAYO RANCHO, practically adjoins the beautiful city of Ukiah and is on the main county road, adjoining the million and a half dollar State lands and inprovements. About ONE THOUSAND acres of this ranch has been subdivided into tracts of TEN ACRES, more or less, and will be thrown on the market for purchase

Sunday, Jan. 12, 1913

The wonderful value of this property is well known in this section. For the cultivation of HOPS, ALFALFA, FRUIT and VEGETABLES (all of which are now growing on the ranch) it is doubtful if it can be duplicated in Northern California. The bottom land, of which there is nearly THREE HUNDRED acres, is rich sedimentary loam. While the foot-hill land is a dark gray alluvial soil especially desired for fruit. In the hands of the skilled and scientific agriculturist its latent possibilities await an ENORMOUS DEVELOPMENT.

YOKAYO RANCHO lies in the ARTESIAN DISTRICT and flowing wells are within a few rods on the adjoining property and we are now putting down wells on our tract. WATER, SOIL and SUNSHINE make production an absolute certainty.

This is a WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY and the terms upon which this land will be sold enables the man of moderate means to become an OWNER as well as a MAN OF FORTUNE.

We invite inspection. Come and look it over. A small deposit will hold your selection until date of sale when it will be credited you on amount of purchase.

LAND is getting scarcer every day and constantly advancing in price.

Lands Second Thief

Sheriff Byrnes yesterday landed Alva Smith, one of the thieves wanted for the robbery of the Willits tailor shop. Kelly was arrested in Santa Rosa as told elsewhere in the Dispatch and Smith was located by Byrnes in Suisun. One other thief, Wilson, is still at large.

It now develops that Smith and Wilson took the goods originally and hid them. Then Wilson became afraid that Smith would get away with the them and got Kelly to hide them in another place. Smith left the country shortly afterwards and Wilson was pinched for vagrancy. Meanwhile the hay in the barn where they were hid was being fed out and Kelly got afraid they would be found boxed them up and shipped them to Santa Rosa under the name of Jones, so he was pinched when he went to claim them.

RAIN PUTS RAILROAD OUT OF COMMISSION

Special to Dispatch

Willits, Dec 17—We are having some more rain this week of which we have had 4.5 inches during the last storm, and 21.29 inhes for the season.

We measure the rain with a yard stick up here, we should have the first yard by the first of the year.

The last storm caused several bad slides on both railroads. Monday the Fort Bragg train could not get through and the logging train went out from Willits and the passengers, mail and baggage were transferred from one train to the other. The worst slide is on this side of the summit tunnel. There are a number of bad slides just this side of Dos Rios aud that road is now out of commission.

Things China Knew Long Ago.

There is a distinct tradition of flying machines at a very remote date in China, according to the author of "The Civilization of China," and rough woodcuts of such cars have been handed down for many centuries. There are even hints of the X ray, there being a record of a physician of the fifth century B. C. who was able to see into the viscera of his patients, while another physician, who lived about 1,800 years ago, was accustomed to use an anaesthetic and operated upon the bowels and offered to cure the headaches of a military commander of his day by opening his head. Hypnotism has been used for hundreds of years, but is forbidden by law. The ranks of the Boxers were largely recruited from the society of the vegetarians, who neither eat meat, smoke nor drink.

How Bill Ray, Mendocino Conuty Aborigine Contributed to Study of Native Language.

Tells Stories in Indian

The petrified songs of petrified birds in the petrified forest, famous in New Mexican History, have now been rivalled by the University of California's pictures of spoken words.

For picturing sounds, the first step was for Professor Pliny E. Goddard to persuade old Bill Ray, a Mendocino County Indian, to relate the legend of "How Polecat Robbed Her Grandmother," which broke the poor old lady's heart, so that she begged the gnats to kill her—which they did—or the story of how Rattlesnake won a human bride, and of how the wife's relatives slew the demon lover—and at that same instant the young girl fell down dead.

As Bill Ray told bits of such wonder stories in his own Kato language, the vibrations from his throat and nose were sent through rubber tubes, and by means of tambour, straw levers and horn tracing-points, lines were traced on smoked paper, stretched on a revolving drum. The tracings are perfect picture of the spoken words.

In all the world there are only a hundred and fifty people who can talk Bill Ray's language. How long Kato will remain a living language is problematical. The white man's diseases and vices have brought havoc, and besides, the young folks are losing the lore of their fathers. But the Kato language has been rescued from oblivion, for these word-pictures have now been published by the Univerity of California, in a volume entitled "Elements of the Kato Language." Here Dr. Goddard, who was formerly of the University but now of the American Museum of Natural History, of New York, has set forth fully the highly complicated structure of the Kato language, and shown by copious examples such things as how suffixes are glued on at the ends of nouns to express ideas of size, shape, and color, and how qualifying adjectives are conjugated, after the manner of verbs.

The verb is really a whole sentence in itself. Thus in a single word direction may be expressed by a prefix, and the object and subject pronouns and the mode and voice all be indicated by other prefixes inserted between the first prefix and the. For example, the one word "tanastya" means "he came out of the creek"

The hundred and fifty or so Indians who alone can speak the Kato language dwell in and near the upper drainage basin of the South Fork of the Eel River, in Mendocino county, and pick up a living at odd jobs in Laytonville or on the ranches thereabouts, or on the bit of land theUnited States Government bought for them in Long Valley. Dr. Goddard has now proved hidden relationships between Kato and the Hupa language, spoken by Indians on the Hupa Reservation in Humboldt county, three or four days journey by trail or road from the home of the Katos.

A Hupa was brought into the midst of the Kato Indians. Day after day he sat in the fireside circle and listened to the story-telling, and gossiping, and the songs of the Katos. He could make neither head nor tail of what they were saying—now and then guess at a word like yet unlike his own.

Yet when Dr. Goddard wrote down in a phonetic alphabetic the myths that Bill Ray related to him in Kato, and with Bill Ray's help made a translation into English, and then compared Kato and Hupa words and grammar, he proved that the two languages are closely akin—related, for example, as modern Greek and English are, by descent from a common mother-speech. The grammatical forms are closely akin the compounds built up in like fashion, and the word-stems the same, save the sound-change governed by wonderfully consistent law. So, for instance, when the Hupa word contains an m, the corresponding Kato word uses a b; when Hupa says i, Kato says u; when Hupa says hw,, Kato says e; and so when "moon" is "hwa" in Hupa, it must be, and it is "ca" in Kato.

By just such discoveries of the far-reaching laws of sound-change did the philologists of the last century work out the relationships of the great Indo-Germanic family of tongues, and prove that from one common mother-speech thousands of years of evolution had developed the myriad languages and dialects of Sanskrit, Armenian, Persian, Greek, Roman, Slavic, Teutonic, that the peasant on the Ganges, the Czar on his throne, the 700,000 Irishmen who still speak Gaelic, the Yankee and the Virginian use language which for all its multiplicity sprang from a single parent speech.

These two Indian tribes of Dr. Goddard's researches, the Kato and the Hupa, had dwelt in their present neighborhoods so long that the Hupa legends declared the gods themselves to have been born on the Klamath and the Trinity rivers. These two people could not understand each other's speech, and yet research has shown that the two languages are akin not only to each other but to a multitude of other tongues, all of the Athapascan stock. These many Athapascan tongues, all sprung from one parent speech, are spoken today all the way from the Arctic Ocean to Mexico, by many different Indian groups in California, by natives all up and down the vast basin of the Mackenzie and Yukon.

Great as is the wonder of these far-flung relationships, equal wonder is it that in California today are spoken a score and more of Indian languages which the closest study does nothing to link as to origin. Most of these twenty or more families of languages have many dialects, and each dialect a rich vocabulary of thousands upon thousands of words and a grammar of a high degree of development. This score of families of living native tongues are a completely alien one from another as is Hebrew from English, Chinese from Hawaiian, or Choctaw from the Swahili o south-equatorial Africa. Comparative study of languages, such as these University publications contribute toward, is a powerful tool for knowledge of the history of America before the white man came, for understanding of the nature and origins of man, and for understanding of how the human mind works.

This new book of Professor Goddard's rounds out past work, for the University has published also volumes containing myths, legends, and "medicine songs" for the Katos and of the Hupas, recorded by Dr. Goddard in a phonetic alphabet, with translations, and also an account by Dr. Goddard of "The Life and Culture of the Hupa." These writings are part of the monumental series of the "University of California Publications in American Archaeology and Ethnology," of which Professor Alfred L. Kroeber is the editor. Ten bulky volumes of this series have been published by the University of California during the past nine years In these books, now on the shelves of all the great libraries, universities, and learned societies of the Old World and the New, are recorded researches of Goddard, Kroeber, Mrs. Nuttall, Hrdlika, Barrett, Dixon, Matthews, Sparkman, Waterman, Uhle, and other scholars who have conributed to the world's knowledge of primitive man on the American continent. All this important work resulted from Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst's munificence, since it was through her aid the Department of Anthropology of the University of California was started, and her munificence gathered the great collections of the University's Museum of anthropology, which could not be duplicated nor equalled today for less than from three to five millions of dollars. These collections from Greece, Italy, Egypt, the South Seas, and Alaska, as well as from California and the Southwest, are open daily to the public, without charge, in the University Museum on Parnssus avenue, San Francisco—overlooking Golden Gate Park.

The naive charm of these "Just So" stories the Katos tell, in accounting for the world and its ways, may be instanced by the tale of "Meadowlark's Breast." Here it is:

'Meadowlark and Mockingbird," says the legend, "were quarreling! They were quarreling in the morning; they were quarreling at noon; they were still quarreling at evening. A fire was burning there. Meadowlark fell asleep.

"Mockingbird put some stones in the fire and let them get hot. He then took one up. He put it in the sleeping Meadowlark's mouth. The stone fell out his breast, leaving the black mark there. That is why he sings at night.

"That is all!"

And in the pure Kato, which nobody ever saw till Dr. Goddard wrote it down, the last four sentences of the legend look like this:

"Teolaki kwsalkut yaeni, Teolaki kwyitsye se walkut yaeni. Hsihit leerit te'tdunni yaeni.

"Kwunlan!" (Which means—"that 's all!")

A Des Moines man had an attack ofmuscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to HotSprings. That meant an expense of $150.00 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by all dealers. Vdv

Familiar With All.

Frederick Donaghey was host at a dinner the other evening, and after the coffee and cigars were served he told of a young Englishman who applied to the head librarian of the New York public library for a position. The official questioned him regarding his knowledge of English literature.

"Have you ever heard of W. M. Thackeray?" was the first query.

"Ever heard of him?" exclaimed the applicant. "Why, I knew him well. We lived in the same neighborhood in London and often took walks together Sunday afternoons."

"Of course you know of Charles Dickens?" said the librarian.

"I should say I do," replied the Englishman. "Mr. Dickens and I were on terms of the greatest intimacy in the old country."

"And George Eliot?" continued the library head.

"George Eliot?" ejaculated the young man. "Why, I used to play football with him."—Chicago Tribune.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

By Laurie Layman

Ukiah came back in basketball last Saturday night with a vengeance. The victims of the game was Willits and the final score was 48 to 12. At the beginning of the game Willits caused the Ukiah rooters to groan by rolling up three points before the echoes of the referee's whistle had died out. Then Ukiah began to score. The goals came so fast that the scorer had to count in short hand to set them all down. During this siege Ukiah laid away sixteen points; Caughey made one marvelous throw from the left side of the hall at this point. Willits, continued to score about one goal to three of Ukiah's until at the end of the first half the count stood 22 to 7.

During the intermission, Southard relieved Shiminosky, of Willits, while Ukiah changed Prather for Chicourrat. The latter change was made in order that both men could play in the game.

The second half saw the Willits boys beaten worse than ever. During this period Connolly and Whited engaged in a wrestling match with the ball. Ukiah scored seven goals to Willits' one: the score stood 26 to 4.

The preliminary game between Grandpa's Pets and Mamma's Darlings was won by the latter, by the one sided score of 25 to 3.

A large crowd witnessed the game and they made some noise too. The Baltimore convention would have sounded like a whisper beside the yelling. A good portion stayed for the dance afterward also and everybody had a good time till the finish.

The line up for the big gamewas as follws:

Willits: Whited, Endicott, Hardwick, Shiminosky, Southard, and Smith.

Position: Forward, Forward, Center, Guard, Guard and Guard.

Ukiah Caughey, Meyers, Connolly, Prather, Chicourrat, Alensby.

The Ukiah point winners were Caughey; face goals 12, penalty throws 3; total 27 points, Meyers, face goals 5, penalty throw 1; total 11 points, Connolly, face goals 5;total 10 points.

The game next Saturday will be between Ukiah and Mendocino Highs. As Mendocino has cleaned up the Coast Highs the go will be for the county championship.

The line up for Ukiah will be the same as last game. The preliminary go this week will be a match for the 120 lb. championship of the school. The teams will line up in the following manner. Snubs Crawford, Elwood, Emmet Connolly, McNab, and Ford.

Position Guard, Guard, Center, Forward, Forward.

Snobs Sandelin, B. Banker, Shearer, W. Baner, and E. Cox.

Everbyody should come and root for their favorite.

Back From Convention

County Horticulturist J. R. Banks returned last Monday evening from Fresno, where he went to attend the fruit growers convention. He reports one of the best meetings in the history of the association. He stated that there were a number of representatives from foreign governments in attendance at the convention. They all come to California to get pointers as it is stated that this state is far ahead of the rest of the world as regards horticultural matters.
